- 4.10 If a fielder possesses the ball while making contact with the pitcher's circle before the batter-runner has reached first base, the batter-runner shall be called out.
- 4.11 If a batted ball makes contact on a fly with a fielder, a fair or foul ball shall be ruled according to the relative position of the ball and the foul line, and not as to where the ball lands or whether the fielder is in fair or foul territory at the time they make contact with the ball.

4.12 If a batted ball makes contact on a fly with a tree, bush, or any foreign object in foul territory, it is a foul ball and the ball is dead.

5.08 If a fielder impedes the progress of a runner while not in the act of fielding the ball, the runner shall advance to the base they were running toward, plus one additional base.

5.09 If a force play exists, and a fielder possesses the ball while making contact with the pitcher's circle before the batter-runner has reached first base, the batter-runner shall be called out, and all other runners may attempt to advance at their own risk.

5.10 If a fielder possesses the ball while making contact with the pitcher's circle, and the runner is less than 20 feet to the next base, the runner may attempt to advance to the base they are running toward at their own risk, however, if the fielder maintains possession of the ball while making contact with the pitcher's circle, the runner shall return to base they were running from at the time the ball is dead. If a runner is running from the base they occupied at the time of the pitch, Rule 5.04 shall apply.

5.14 If a fielder attempts to peg a runner, and the ball is overthrown yet remains in play, all runners may attempt to advance at their own risk.

5.15 If a thrown ball makes contact with the strike zone, and a runner is more than 20 feet to home plate, they shall be called out, and the ball is dead.

5.16 If a batted ball rolls under the home run fence, it is a double, and all other runners shall advance two bases.

5.17 If a runner is due at bat or unable to run due to injury, the last batted out shall run in their place.
